

Politics

Harper names Soudas as his main spokesman

CBC News · Posted: Apr 11, 2010 7:15 PM ET | Last Updated: April 11, 2010

Prime Minister Stephen Harper has appointed one of his closest and most faithful aides as his official spokesman.

Dimitri Soudas, 30, who has worked for Harper for eight years, replaces John Williamson as director of communications. Soudas, whose most recent position was associate director of communications, will be the prime minister's fifth communications director in five years.